Council Answers Questions To City Income Tax

On February 16 the voters of Grayling will go to the polls to decide if the City of Grayling will have an income tax.

Following are answers to most sought of questions pertaining to the tax to the city council:

Q: What is the tax rate?

A: 1% tax of income for residents and corporations and 1/2 of 1% for non-residents for income earned within the city.

Q: Is there a provision for personal exemptions?

A: There is, $600 per person.

Q: Will there be a reduction for real property taxes?

A: The council has resolved to lower the millage by 3 mills or 15.38%.

Q: So the council reduces property tax this year, then next year will raise them back up—right?

A: The council levies only enough taxes to meet budgetary needs — and has resolved to lower taxes, in accordance to income arrived by income taxes.

Q: Why not impose more property tax, if the city needs additional revenue?

A: The city charter was drawn up with a 20 mill limitation. Presently the city is operating on 19 1/2 mills. The council feels that this is the time to reform our city tax structure, by taking some of the burden off property owners, and imposing some tax on all residents with income and non-residents working in the city.

Q: A lot has been said about the city not having any tax base, how come?

A: The city has a small land area, just a little over a mile square. 22.85% of the total is tax exempt land. City property owners are paying the tax deficiency of this portion of exempt land. The council feels that the tax system should be reformed to broaden the base.

Naval Academy Program Jan. 29

Lcdr. Arthur R. Thayer, Naval Academy Information Officer for the 10th Congressional District, will present the Naval Academy program in room 25 at Grayling High School at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 29. Any high school boy or parents interested in one of the service academies is urged to attend.

Although the film and slides used are strictly on the Naval Academy the discussion on requirements and procedures for getting an appointment will be appropriate for anyone who might be interested in the Army or Air Force Academies. The basic parts of the program at all three academies are also quite similar.

This program can be very beneficial to freshmen and sophomores as it will give them an idea of what subjects they may need to take in high school and the type of marks they would need to get to qualify for any service academy and most colleges.

FIRE CLAIMS LIFE — A Monday evening fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond P. Hill north of Grayling on I-75 business loop, claimed the life of Mrs. Gladys Hill, 50 years old. The Grayling Fire Department was called out around 8:30 p.m. and fought the blaze in 14 below zero weather. According to Robert Golnick, fire chief, Mrs. Hill and her youngest daughter, Linda Lee, 9, were in bed when the fire broke out. Linda managed to escape, but Mrs. Hill was found near the door. Mr. Hill and their oldest daughter Darlene, 21, were attending meetings at the Moose Lodge at the time. Tuesday morning, Golnick stated, cause of the fire was apparently an overheated stove, and he estimated the damage to be around $7,000.

New Laws Are Expected for Snowmobiles

Mechanized doodle bugs, swamp buggies and other land roving vehicles will give enforcement officers and safety officials something to ponder in the new decade, according to State Police Director, Frederick E. Davids.

Davids, Chairman of the State Safety Commission, told Commission members that the evolution of the all terrain vehicles (ATVs) calls for some new thinking from law makers and state officials. "The appearance of these ATVs throughout Michigan gives rise to some interesting questions of licensing, control and operation," Davids said. "Right now, many of these vehicles do not come under provisions of our existing Motor Vehicle Code. I think we should start planning now for the general acceptance of these vehicles in our recreational economy."

In a recent statement, Davids had expressed displeasure with errant snowmobile operators who ride roughshod over the snowy Michigan countryside. He told Commission members that there have now been at least twelve snowmobile fatalities since the season began and past performance indicates more before winter's end. Davids reported, "I'm not out to 'get' snowmobiling; as a matter of fact I'm in favor of the sport so long as it's pursued lawfully and safely."

Fowler Named 1st V.P. of Twps. Group

Grayling Township supervisor, B. J. Fowler has been named 1st Vice President of the Michigan Township Association. Other officers include: President, Carl Ammerman of Genesee County; Second vice president, Jack B. Millard of Macomb County; third vice president, John T. Gilmour of Saginaw County; secretary, Donna Scott of Clare County; and treasurer, Brazier Revor of Gogebic County.

Attending the convention held at the Pantlind Hotel in Grand Rapids on January 14, 15 and 16 from Crawford County were Fowler, R. M. Hayes and Eureka Stephan from Grayling Township and Bertha Leline and Veva Webster from South Branch Township.

The nearly 1,000 township officials approved a resolution supporting the so-called "fair share" method of taxation. The plan sponsored by Rep. Roy Smith of Ypsilanti seeks to support schools with a higher income tax rather than through real and personal property taxes.

Another resolution requests that Townships receive a share of the gas and weight tax to be used as matching funds for local road improvements.

Of particular interest to Crawford County was a resolution passed by the Board of Directors of the Association supporting action to assure re-apportionment of Crawford County prior to this Fall's election of County Commissioners.

Consumers Plans To Lease Sites On AuSable-Manistee Rivers

JACKSON, Mich.—Consumers Power Company plans to grant 25 cabin site leases on the AuSable River, and 25 site leases on the Manistee, in a coordinated program to extend recreational uses of the rivers.

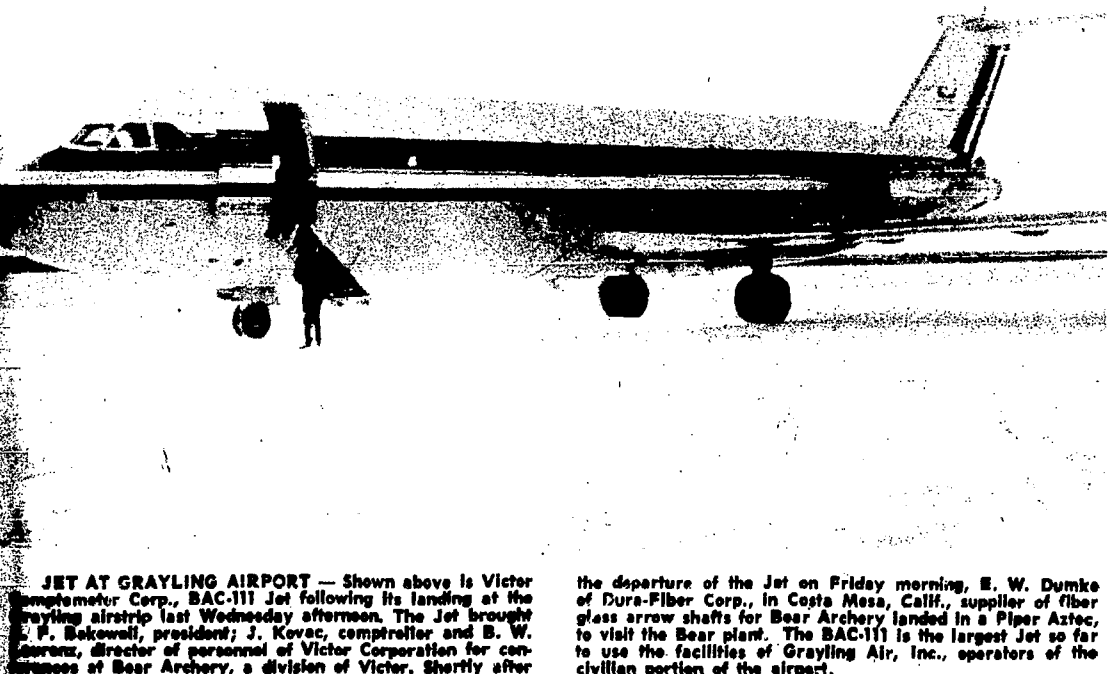

The company owns 245 miles of river lands fronting on the AuSable, and 326 miles fronting on the Manistee. The company said most of these extensive areas will remain in as natural a state as possible, while allowing the public to have continuing access to the rivers.

The 25 AuSable River cabin sites will be located over a nine-mile stretch of the river below Mio Dam in Oscoda County. The Manistee leases are to be located over a 15-mile stretch of river downstream from Baxter Bridge, in northern Wexford County.

R. C. Youngdahl, vice president, said each cabin site is limited to a specific location within a ten-acre section. Fencing is allowed only to protect the immediate cabin area, and all health and zoning requirements must be observed. A minimum setback of 50 feet is required, with cutting restricted to the cabin area. These regulations Mr. Youngdahl said, and required compliance with state and county regulations, insures that no pollution of the rivers will occur.

Consumers Power Company has long played a major role in restoring and preserving Michigan's river lands. The company holds title to 704 miles of lands fronting on four major rivers — the other two being the Pine and the Muskegon. Over the past 40 years, the company has planted more than 22 million seedlings in areas where fire, drought and destructive lumbering practices by previous owners left the land scarred and useless. Good conservation thus has restored vast stretches of river lands and many of these areas are now open to the general public for recreation.

It has taken the lead in supporting programs of research, education, patient care and community services to make this goal a reality. It reminds you that the total can be reduced through use of rubella (German measles) and Rh vaccines now available.

EMTA Spring-Summer Tourism Push Now Underway

BAY CITY — "Vacation planning is a year around family activity." So states East Michigan Tourist Association president, William Himburg, of Owosso.

He follows this comment with the announcement of the start of the tourist groups' drive for 1970 spring-summer tourist business with the first of five travel shows on the EMTA promotion schedule. EMTA will promote East Michigan vacations at the Cincinnati Travel show January 17-25. The EMTA exhibit will move to Columbus, Ohio in February and to Cleveland, Detroit and Indianapolis in March and April.

Travel shows are a primary media for tourist promotion according to James Hall, EMTA executive vice president. The EMTA program will also include newspaper and magazine advertising and travel planning publications.

"We expect to display our tourist product before an audience of more than a half-million people at the travel shows, plus talk with hundreds of these families that are searching for vacation ideas," the tourist leader stated. "Vacation in Michigan's fabulous East" is the theme of the 1970 campaign.

The EMTA-community travel show program for 1970 will involve eight communities plus the entire region in a $20,000 5-show program. Direct participation, in addition to Houghton Lake and Gaylord, will include Grayling, Mackinaw City, Cheboygan, Indian River, Mio and Oscoda. Each will have a special panel display in the 30-foot EMTA exhibit at the five shows. Literature from all EMTA members and communities within the region will be distributed at the shows. EMTA staffers Al Smith, Bob Crawford, John North and Hall will work the EMTA booth.

The values of using travel shows as a promotion media are revealed dramatically by per capita sales tax collections for Michigan counties. In these reports by the Michigan Department of Revenue, Otsego, Roscommon and Cheboygan counties have consistently headed the statewide list for the past decade.

Gaylord in Otsego County, Houghton Lake and Roscommon in Roscommon County and Cheboygan County communities have been Michigan's most aggressive communities using travel shows for vacation promotion since the 1950's. Through their chambers of commerce, with support from city and county government units, each area has used their own exhibit booth and participated in the EMTA program.

Of the $94 million contributed to the state tax treasury in 1969 by Michigan's tourist industry, these three counties have contributed substantial sums. Sales and use taxes are a major part of the total; fifty percent of which goes to the Michigan education program.

Deep inside each person, where no one can see, stands a dream castle. The nature of it varies according to one's character and personality. An artist may dream of creating a masterpiece—not yet painted—which will inspire many people. Another person may see a vision of how he can make life happier for others.

Everyone must believe in his dream, in order to go forward with patience.

Jesus hoped that the world would hear His message through the uneducated fishermen He chose as His close companions. He did not give up His dream that the disciples would carry on His work . . . even when they argued over places of honor in heaven . . . or when Peter denied any connection with Him.

His dream came true. Showing courage and faith, this small group of twelve grew through centuries into today's worldwide congregation of millions.

You will find inspiration and help for your dreams of spiritual accomplishment when you attend the church of your choice.

A Wasted Effort

Several months ago, a large West Coast brewery launched a cleanup project of near monumental proportions. It organized litter removal squads and set them to work picking up all the trash along one of the scenic highways stretching from Portland, Oregon, to the Pacific Coast, some 70 or 80 miles away. Arrangements were made for fleets of trucks to haul off the garbage as it was gathered from the road and adjacent right-of-way. Tons and tons of unsightly trash were removed, and one of the state's scenic highways was restored to its original beauty. But what happened? Drive along this highway today, and you will find the same old dreary isle of trash and garbage—cartons of pop and beer cans, paper plates, half-eaten sandwiches and all the refuse of a slovenly people.

When we talk about improving the environment, one cannot help wondering just what we mean. To what avail is clean air or water to people who have no sense of personal responsibility toward holding up their end of the job of keeping our earth a fit place on which to live. Cleaning up a highway was a good publicity stunt for a beer company. But, it appears to have been a wasted effort in a country whose people seem to want to delegate all responsibility for preserving the environment to government, industry and the other fellow.

HILLSBORO, N.H., MESSENGER: "There is nothing wrong with a school professor who advises parents that the proper way to teach responsibility, punctuality and other similar virtues is to load a child with chores. Chores have been and still are character builders, and are also beneficial to the parents. How can any boy expect to be Governor unless he has mowed the lawn, raked the leaves, washed the car and shoveled snow, with neatness, pride and dispatch? How could any girl preside as chatelaine of a lovely home unless she has been Mother's little helper, washed thousands of dishes and kept the vacuum cleaner on the go?"

Mio Chamber Opposes AuSable River Development

Should the AuSable River be developed as cabin sites? Will this 35 mile stretch of wild river become another victim of short term planning?

The Mio Chamber of Commerce believes that all citizens in Michigan have a stake in the answers to these questions. Can the public afford to sit back and see one of the truly beautiful stretches of Michigan Rivers become another string of summer homes?

At a recent meeting held in Mio, Mr. James F. Baines of Consumers Power Company, announced that 25 cabin leases will be let out on the AuSable downstream from Mio.

This area is now largely wild and undeveloped and is a quality trout fishing stretch of river. The power company owns the land along the river and has always been most cooperative with public agencies and governmental units in allowing public use of the frontage. As a public utility company, Consumers Power Company is conscious of its public responsibilities.

The Mio Chamber of Commerce stated that leasing will not be in the long term public interest. President Homer Miller said: "It is unusual for a Chamber of Commerce to oppose a development proposal, but after weighing all factors, we feel the Consumers Power Company will be making an error in leasing this river frontage."

This stretch of river contains some of the finest German Brown Trout habitat in Michigan according to fish biologists. Cabin development can only degrade this unusual native trout habitat.

Lower Michigan has few rivers as undisturbed as this stretch of the AuSable. Local people feel that the proposed leasing of 25 cabin sites will only be the start of a continual build up of cabins on the river.

Every cabin makes some contribution to the pollution problem on the AuSable. The proposed leases are legally open to public access, but in actuality the frontage becomes unavailable for public use.

The resolution passed by the Chamber of Commerce says: "The AuSable River frontage between Mio and Alcona Pond should be retained in its natural state and made available for public use. No further development should be permitted until some equitable means of carrying out the above objectives can be arrived at."

Dear Sir:

The Grayling Trailmaster Snowmobile Club wishes to thank everyone who took part in the New Year's Weekend Snowmobile Rally.

The three-day event was a complete success, but would not have been without the help and services of the many volunteers.

We wish to thank all those businesses who contributed to the trophy fund. We are sorry that those businesses who contributed did not have the trophies to display, but it was impossible for the supplier of our trophies to have them ready until just a day before the event.

We also wish to thank Clare Madsen and Stanley Madsen for the use of their property for the Oval Track Races, the Department of Natural Resources for help in making a parking lot available at the Cross Country event, and Jack Millikin for donating equipment and manpower for track maintenance.

W.W.I BARRACKS AND AUXILIARY
The AuSable Barracks auxiliary #3388 held their first meeting of the new year on Tuesday, Jan. 6, at the Legion Hall. All enjoyed the pot luck with the men of the barracks. New president, Emma Knibbs conducted the meeting. So many members are away to the southland so our attendance was small.

The next meeting is to be held on February 3, starting with a pot luck at 1 p.m. The barracks and Auxiliary meet on the first Tuesday of every month.

SUNDAY'S SERMON

A BETTER WORLD

Centuries pass, and mankind still awaits the end of all wars and the achievement of a world at peace. Each new decade, each new year, is looked to with hope and optimism. But, as the years go by, the search for a "perfect world" goes on and on.

What we should remember is that God did not promise us a perfect world, nor even a perfect life. The life of Christ upon earth was fulfilled as a life of dedication and great sacrifice, yet was subject to temptation.

The conflict between good and bad, right and wrong—it began in the Garden of Eden and will continue until the end of time. Down through the centuries however, there is a comparison that may be made. The source and the face of that which is bad, of the evil in the world, has often changed. The temptations of this generation are far different, more subtle and, surprisingly, more socially acceptable than in days of old.

What has remained the same is the continuity of the right way—a life in harmony with the commandments and the will of God. A life according to this simple pattern is a significant contribution to a better world.

Many were born with a serious birth defect—most of each arm missing. Why? We don't know. No one knows. But we do know that science can find out. March of Dimes-supported scientists would not go to March of Dimes-supported scientists will work out birth defects. Help us help them.

U.P. Gets Notice

If Michigan's Upper Peninsula were made into a separate state, it would rank 42nd in size among the states, ahead of Maryland and behind West Virginia. Its population of 297,400 would place it ahead of both Alaska and Nevada in numbers of people.

The drive from Detroit to Ironwood is longer than the drive from Detroit to Washington, D.C. Despite these statistics, which seem to indicate enough size and substance to warrant a great deal of attention, most residents of Michigan know very little about the beautiful, spacious U.P., save for the fact it has lots of trees, some deer and some mines.

In economic terms, the area has been stagnating for much of this century. Menominee, for example, had 12,532 residents in 1900, but has only 11,289 today. The area originally was populated by miners and loggers. But as minerals became available at a lower cost from other locations the higher cost U.P. products became noncompetitive. At the same time, the timber resources were depleted.

Now the Michigan Commerce Department, at the direction of Gov. William G. Milliken, has come up with a set of recommendations which it hopes will breathe new life into the long suffering area.

The recommendations are the result of a study of the area made by Commerce Department Director Richard Whitmer, who made a trip through the area in September, visiting a total of 10 communities.

Whitmer's study group was not greeted with the greatest enthusiasm by some leaders in the area.

One U.P. resident told him "I have been amazed at the number of studies of our economy that have been made during the last 10 years. It would be better to get the money to implement the earlier studies than to make more studies."

The 10 recommendations, which Milliken has under consideration, include such items as the completion of highway improvements, especially in the U.S. 2 corridor from St. Ignace to Escanaba, to improve communications.

Whitmer also suggested establishment of a vocational education program for the U.P. to serve the needs of the area.

He said his own department should establish an office in the U.P. and that the Governor should appoint a special assistant for the U.P. who would work and live there.

Other recommendations involved studies of state investments in banks in the area and a study of the tax situation there.

Milliken has been working on the recommendations since he received them.

One of the main problems involved in any program designed for the entire area, Whitmer said, is the fact "The Upper Peninsula is not a homogenous area. Rather, he said, it consists of several diverse regions, each differing from the other."

He said the eastern part consisting of Chippewa, Luce and Mackinac counties "is the only part of the U.P. within the economic zone of influence of the 'lower peninsula.'"

The remainder of the zone is under the influence of Milwaukee, Chicago and Minneapolis to varying degrees, Whitmer said.

"The Upper Peninsula is not like much of the rest of Michigan," the report concluded. "Economic development programs that may work well in much of the lower peninsula may be ineffective in the Upper Peninsula for the following reasons:

"...its small, scattered population.

"...its level of income which is below that of the rest of the state.

"...its level of educational achievement.

"...its absentee ownership of property.

"...the heavy outmigration of young people.

"...the sociological and cultural aspects of its geographical isolation.

"These facts must be kept in mind if the state of Michigan is to deal with the crisis facing the Upper Peninsula," Whitmer concluded.

"Fierce pride of Upper Peninsula residents results in the

An application was received from Shell Oil Company for a capitalizing of the "u" and "p". There is no grammatical rule which justifies this, but their pronounced reaction brings it about. Consequently, writers are faced with a problem in consistency when they refer to the "lower peninsula." The situation is especially apparent when references to both areas are made in one sentence.

Please, Just Count Noses

Unless Congress intervenes soon, the Bureau of Census will be a lot more noisy than ever before when the 1970 Census is held. Much too noisy, many people say.

The Census questionnaire which has been prepared asks a lot more than how many people are in each household. That was the original Constitutional reason for the census—so that the House of Representatives could be apportioned according to the distribution of population in the states. To assure compliance by every citizen, a penalty was established.

But now, look what the government plans to ask. Questions like "Do you have a flush toilet?" and "Do you have complete kitchen facilities?" The latter is defined by the Census Bureau as "a sink with piped water, a range or cook stove and a refrigerator." That's complete? No housewife would agree with this definition.

Under present plans for the 1970 Census, three out of four families will receive a "short form" of 22 questions to be mailed back. One in four will get a "long form," a Census booklet (it can hardly be called a form) which could require 120 or more responses and several hours of work, depending on one's circumstances.

The booklet includes questions about work and unemployment, sources of income, education, immigration, language, "What language, other than English, was usually spoken in the home?"

this person's name when he was a child?" military service, rent, value of property, disability, and whether one has such things as a television set, dishwasher and clothes dryer.

Besides the nuisance and the intrusion into privacy, a number of Congressmen are complaining because all this will be asked under threat of a $100 fine and 60 days in jail. Many Congressmen think it's time to draw the line on government invasion of privacy under such a threat.

The Census Bureau promises to keep everything confidential and argues that all these statistics are needed for government planning and to set national standards. For instance, the bureau wants to know how many cars each family owns so that highways can be planned.

That's ridiculous. State car registration figures could provide this information on a continuing basis.

The nation's businessmen are acutely aware of this increasing intrusion; they are required to fill out an extensive business census every couple of years. On official Census Day, 1970, millions of other Americans will find out just how noisy a bureaucracy can become.

Policypointer Questions Answered by
The Institute of Life Insurance, 277
Park Ave., N. Y., N. Y., 10017

Q. I've been thinking that "double indemnity" insurance is for me. After all, I'm young and in perfect health — I'm sure the only way I'd go right now would be in an accident. Can you tell me more about double indemnity?

A. "Double indemnity" means that your beneficiary would receive twice the face amount of your life insurance — if you are killed in an accident. Many life insurance companies even offer "triple indemnity" and a few offer up to four or five times the basic face amount of a policy. This is usually available for a small additional premium.

There are, however, differing opinions as to the need for this type of accidental death coverage. A person is far more likely to die from natural causes than from an accident. Some advisors believe it is better to use the additional premium to increase the basic insurance.

You don't mention if you have a family or what their needs might be in case something happens to you. The need for money might be greater if you were to suffer a lingering illness with heavy expenses.

On the other hand, accidents are the fourth most frequent cause of death — and among younger people they are the leading cause. Particularly among young families, with limited funds, an accidental death provision to their policy can provide useful extra protection at little added cost.

The terms for such coverage are quite specific. Before deciding what you are going to do, why not discuss your particular situation with your life insurance man?

Low-Income Persons in Michigan Benefit from USDA Food Program

Nearly 187,000 low-income persons in Michigan received food assistance from the U.S. Department of Agriculture during November, according to Dennis M. Doyle, Midwest regional director of Food and Nutrition Service.

The total included 46,914 persons in 33 Commodity Distribution Program projects and 139,998 in 50 Food Stamp Program areas.

Michigan participants in the stamp plan received over $2.6 million worth of coupons during November of which nearly $784,000 were bonus coupons. The average bonus per person was $5.80.

In 11 Midwest states, 1.2 million persons received USDA food assistance. Of the total, around 380,000 were in 365 commodity programs and 820,000 in 586 food stamp projects.

The Food Stamp Program enables low-income families to buy more food by exchanging the amount of money they normally spend on food for coupons worth more than they paid. The coupons are spent like cash at authorized retail food outlets for any domestic foods.

The Commodity Distribution Program provides over 20 USDA-donated foods to supplement the diets of needy people. The foods are shipped to the state distributing agency which handles the storage and transportation to local distribution centers and welfare agencies.

Gov. William Milliken Approves New Auto Insurance Law

LANSING — Gov. William G. Milliken has signed into law a bill to create an automobile insurance placement facility to replace the present voluntary assigned risk plan.

Under the bill which becomes law April 1, the facility will be supervised by the Insurance Bureau of the Michigan Department of Commerce and all auto insurance companies will be members of the facility. The new law also will establish a file and use procedure for rate changes on property insurance similar to the procedure for casualty insurance.

legislation aimed at controlling snowmobiles. David said he would rather see local ordinances adopted that would serve community and area needs. "I know many localities have recently passed ordinances that should effectively deal with problems at the local level. I commend this and I would hope the problem responds to this sort of action," David said. He indicated that State Police have been in contact with members of the Legislature regarding snowmobile regulations.

Mechanics Can Earn While They Learn

By Willard Bosserman
 County Extension Director

Men will be paid $51.00 per week while in training to be farm power equipment mechanics.

Those interested in this type of training should contact their Michigan Employment Security Commission office.

The course will be held in Bay City, location unknown at this writing. It will begin in January or February. The date will depend upon when enough students are signed up for the course. The entire course is 48 weeks of training, 40 hours per week.

The program is designed to acquaint each trainee with the techniques and procedures in the repair and maintenance of major farm power implements. The course will include complete rebuilding of gasoline and diesel tractor engines. It will also include instruction on maintenance, repair and overhaul of farm machinery, equipment and vehicles, such as tractors, harvesters, pumps, tilling equipment, trucks, and other mechanized equipment.

Demand is high. Each of the 19 graduates from last year's class had at least four interviews for jobs and all were offered jobs. Starting salaries of $500 to $600 per month are expected.

A minimum starting age is 17 1/2 years. Vocational agriculture in high school is helpful but not absolutely necessary. Processing a mechanical interest is important.

The program is financed under the manpower development training act, Department of labor.
